Benefits

Faster compliance time, better financial visibility, dramatically reduced procure-to-payment cycle times

RPC IS A publicly-held oilfield services company. In any given week, the company has employees working at hundreds of sites completing and maintaining oil wells. To carry out the work, RPC employees need significant amounts of materials. For instance, one well alone can require two million pounds of sand. Approving the vast amount of POs can be a nightmare for managers who spend their time in the field away from their computers.

These purchase orders need to be recorded for SOX compliance. Managers would often wait for multiple days until they had several approvals to complete, and would work on their approvals in the evenings or on the weekends when they were in front of their computers.

One district manager, whose division at its peak generated $45-$50 million in revenue per month, spent 33 hours in a single month approving over 800

“The administrators in the company are used to using PeopleSoft. It’s not quick, not easy, so field managers resent using it. We needed to make it as simple to use for field managers as shopping online.”

purchase orders. “We needed to be able to capture PO approvals when managers are in the field,” said Kent Lyon, VP of Finance for RPC.

The Capriza Solution

RPC was able to arm their managers with a Capriza-built mobile application for approving POs. Capriza simplified the approval process and leveraged notifications for a single list of approvals with the ability to respond with a swipe. The intuitive mobile app had immediate adoption and required no user training. Approvals that once took more than two minutes to complete in PeopleSoft, now take a mere 30 seconds from the field – a 4X improvement in time savings.

“The cumulative impact of approvals across the entire organization took a major toll on our productivity, and created significant operational drag. With Capriza, we’ve been able to eliminate that burden and reduce approval cycle times by more than 75%.”
